

Tsukuba Morphology Meeting 3

We are pleased to announce a one-day international workshop on linguistic morphology. Anyone interested in this research domain is welcome.

Dates: May 30, 2019

Venue: University of Tsukuba, Institutes of Humanities and Social Sciences A520

Address: 1-1-1 Tennodai, Tsukuba, Ibaraki, 305-8571, Japan

- 13:45-13:50 Opening address
- 13:50-15:50 Invited Lecture

Semantic relations in English N+N compounds as realisations of semantic valences of nouns

Elizaveta Tarasova

(International Pacific University, New Zealand)

- 16:00-16:30 Presentation 1
Mandarin Chinese translation of Japanese 'jibun' in a contemporary novel and some reflections for the Three-Tier Model of Language Use
by Yao Fan & Akiko Nagano (Tohoku University)
- 16:30-17:00 Presentation 2
Acquisition of English prepositions by Japanese EFL learners and the large potential of data driven Learning: Overcoming the issues of the image-based instructions
by Tomoki Kano (University of Tsukuba)

This workshop is supported by JSPS KAKENHI 16K13234. Please contact Masaharu Shimada (shimada.masaharu.fu@u.tsukuba.ac.jp).